ABOUT ME

I am of the Musgamagw Dzawada'enuxw from Kingcome Inlet, BC. My traditional name (above) is roughly translated to "I leave a part of myself wherever I go - my essence."

I was raised immersed in the richness of the Kwakwaka'wakw language, culture, values and traditions. In contrast, keeping up with modern technology was instilled in me as a young child by my late grandfather who always ensured we had a computer.

As a homeschooling mother to four (4) daughters, I have tried to infuse a balance of the two worlds and their respective experiences in my childrens' upbringing.

I am a community oriented, tech savvy professional seeking opportunities to utilize my varied skill-set in addition to gaining further experience in marketing, non-profit organizations, education and/or web and graphic design.
